GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, September 2.—Advices from the Continent report that a Convention of German Bishops assembled and organized in Fulda, Bavaria, to-day, with the object of considering in hierarchial conclave what course that body will adopt with reference to the Papal summons calling its members to attend an Ecumenical Council, as well as the line of representative conduct which they will pursue, bearing upon this council. There is a very large attendance. The proceedings of the conclave are kept secret, but it is understood that the Bishops evince a disposition to adopt liberal and independent views.

THE BYRON SCANDAL.

The London Times to-day has an editorial on the article in the Atlantic Monthly, by Mrs. Stowe, in relation to Lord and Lady Byron. The writer, after commenting on the character and position of Lord Byron, considers "Mrs. Stowe's story a faithful reproduction of Lady Byron's statement to her solicitors. The latter do not hesitate in manifesting a desire to discredit, but do not contradict the story. It is impossible that Mrs. Stowe understood once and forgot afterward the substantial part of the statement, but it is perfectly possible and probable that the wife was a victim of delusion. We can find nothing incompatible with such a hypothesis. On the contrary, the story unintentially confirms it. We have vainly searched to see what Lord Byron said and did to confirm the suspicions of guilt, and only find vague expressions that the wife was fully convinced. The fact is startling, but not the less so when we remember she thought him insane. We cannot conjecture how the wife came to entertain the suspicion, but can easily understand how once entertaining it, first imposed on herself, and then on Mrs. Stowe. It would only be what thousands of unhappy wives have done before. To have suspicions of exceptional enormity, this quite accounts for the doubts of her husband's sanity and the low opinion his own confessions may have led her to form of his morality."

The Pall Mall Gazette says on this subject: "Whatever may be the reasons that determined Mr. Wentworth and his sister to postpone the publication of Lady Byron's papers, Mrs. Stowe cannot be such a serious offender. If the grand children seriously thought of printing them, the solicitors, in their letter recently published, make no charge of inaccuracy, but of incompleteness. The inference is, Mrs. Stowe's statement is correct, but that more remains to be told."

The Morning Post also has an article on the question, wherein the writer says: "As Lady Byron's will committed her papers to the care of trustees, under certain conditions, and as Mrs. Stowe was not, her story is entirely gratuitous and unauthorized. She has committed a breach of confidence reposed in her, and the offense, by her own showing, does not admit of extension. There was no error of judgment in the matter. I is for Mrs. Stowe to explain her motives. It does not signify whether Mrs. Stowe was ignorant of the terms of the will or not; the violation of confidence, the outrage on the dead, the disregard of the feelings of the living, are the same. She ought to know that the public conscience cannot be so offended with impunity."

THE COTTON TRADE.

A correspondent in to-day's Times, speaking of the calamity in the cotton trade, says it was owing to an increase of consuming power at a time when the raw material was decreasing. He argues that it would be folly in the American planters to grow five million bales of cotton at double the expense of land and labor, when the same profit will be realized from half that amount. He is certain that a well arranged trial must convince the spinner of the benefit of co-operating in growing.

NAPOLEON'S ILLNESS.

The Times, to-day, says: "The indisposition of the Emperor is a gain for the people. It has made them feel that nations must survive individuals, and their destinies must not hang on one life. It will be the Emperor's fault if his indisposition be not a gain for himself and his dynasty. He must suffer no relapse to find him unprepared. He must admit the possibility of the world's going on without him, and honestly endeavor to set it going. To achieve this he has only to make good Prince Napoleon's words, and must base the Empire on a policy unreservedly liberal."

THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 3, 1869.

THE VIRGINIA TEST OATH.

The War Department yesterday received from Attorney General Hoar his opinion relative to political affairs in Virginia, and has transmitted the same to General Canby for his information and guidance. It depends upon the latter to make the full text public.

The Attorney General says the legislature must, as a prerequisite, submit the constitution and their action thereon to Congress for approval. In this the test oath will not be required. If the constitution and action of the legislature be approved, the legislature then becomes the legislature of the State of Virginia, and the provisions of the constitution, fixing the qualifications of members of the legislature, necessarily prevail, the requirements of the reconstruction acts being thus superceded, so far as Virginia is concerned; but before such approval by Congress, Virginia not being in all respects a State of the Union, the legislature as a provisional body cannot pass laws without its members taking the test oath.

The reconstruction act requires the ratification of the Fifteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, before the State can be admitted to representation in Congress. There is no question that this Amendment will be ratified by an overwhelming majority.

PROPOSED INTERNATIONAL FAIR.

A preliminary meeting of prominent citizens of the District was held this evening to consider the project of holding a grand international fair here in 1871. The remarks of those present were highly favorable to the undertaking, and it was confidently predicted the business men of Washington would give liberal aid. A resolution was adopted appointing a Committee of fifty to inquire into the feasibility of entering into the proposed project, and report at a meeting to be held at an early day.

One hundred and thirteen thousand dollars in fractional currency was received at the Treasury Department this morning, from Bank Note Companies in New York. Collector of Internal Revenue Eddy, of the Ninth Indiana District, has resigned.

Secretary Rawlins, though still weak from last night's attack of sickness, is considered more comfortable to-night. He is attended by Dr. Bliss and Surgeon General Barnes, and Dr. Norris sat up with him last night.

Result of the California Election—Legislature Democratic.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, September 2.—The Democratic local tickets throughout the State are generally elected by a decided majority. The next Legislature will be emphatically against the Fifteenth Amendment.

San Francisco returns a full Democratic Legislative delegation. The vote of the city was light; only about 36,000 names were registered, and less than 20 000 votes polled.

The count of straight tickets for Mayor last night gave McCoppin, Democrat, nearly 1,400 majority, but the count of scratched tickets at eight o'clock this evening shows that Selley, Independent, is about 125 ahead, with a prospect of an increased majority.

There are serious obstacles in the way of accommodation. The impression among many of the Spanish statesmen is that the Island will eventually pass from the possession and control of that authority. It is stated the preliminary demanded by Spain is that the Cubans shall lay down their arms, a condition with which it is ascertained they will not comply, if for no other reason, that they have no guarantee of protection from Spanish volunteers who, according to reports, aim at the absolute rule of the island and have a secret organization to that end.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

EDUCATIONAL.

Inauguration of the New Fifth Ward, Allegheny, Public School House.

At 7½ o'clock on Thursday evening a large assemblage of the parents and children of the Fifth ward, Allegheny, filled to overflowing the capacious auditorium of the exhibition hall, which is so fine a feature of the building. Several clergymen and other friends of education, together with the popular Quartette Club of Allegheny, were on the stand. The Rev. Dr. J. B. Clark having consented to preside, called the meeting to order and commenced the exercises with prayer, whereupon the Hon. John E. Park, President of the Local Board of Directors, read the following

REPORT.

Under the act consolidating the borough of Manchester with the city of Allegheny, approved 12th March, A. D. 1867, and the subsequent division of the wards by ordinance of the City Councils, the first board of Directors was organized. The ordinance erecting the Fifth and Sixth wards provides that the borough of Manchester, together with a portion of the First and Second wards, Allegheny, lying west of Allegheny avenue, be thrown together, and the whole divided by a line running west through the centre of Hamilton street and Locust avenue to the Ohio river, the portion situate south of that line to be designated as the Fifth, and the portion on the north side of said line the Sixth ward. This division left the principal school property in the Sixth ward, and consequently the Fifth ward without school property or school directors. To remedy this evil, and in accordance with the instructions of the State Superintendent, one member of the Board of Directors of the Borough of Manchester and Second ward, Allegheny, each residing within the limits of the portions of these districts to be detached and become part or the Fifth, were delegated by the several Boards to take charge of the interests of the Fifth ward school matters. These gentlemen met on the 4th of October and 2nd of November, A. D., 1867, and fully organized the first board by the appointment of four gentlemen, residents of the ward, who met from time to time, but did not feel themselves authorized under the circumstances in assuming the responsibility of purchasing real estate and the erection of necessary buildings; consequently nothing was accomplished until the election and subsequent organization of the board on the 20th of January, 1868.

In September following schools were opened with 520 children. These children were taught partly in the old Manchester school building (now abandoned,) partly in rented apartments, and to the number of 120 by favor of the Directors in the First and Second Wards to which they formerly belonged. In March, 1868, eleven lots of ground, area 224½ by 132 feet, were purchased at a cost of $10,400. The ground was broken on the seventh of May, 1868, and the work on the building has steadily progressed towards completion.

The building is 134 by 68 feet, with a center and two cross halls—stairways from each hall. There are fourteen school rooms, each 34 by 26 feet; height of ceilings fourteen feet. The reception and high school rooms are respectively 40 by 34 feet, with fourteen feet ceilings. The auditorium is 68 by 35 feet, with a gallery on either side, and with a twenty-two feet ceiling.

The rooms are severally provided with dressing and cloak apartment.

The whole building is heated by a low pressure steam apparatus furnished by Messrs. Bourne & Bros.

There are tablets in each main hall, viz:

1868.
Board of Directors:
John E. Parke, President,
C. B. Shea, Secretary,
Robert Lea,
S. F. Crowthers,
N. McClinton,
Joseph Walton.
W. A. Read, Treasurer.
Barr & Moser, Architects.
Trimble, McIntyre & Co. Builders.
Gas and Water Plumbing by Bartley & Motheral.
Painting by S. McCune.
Furniture by Guy Freeborn.
Bell (weight 2,366 pounds) by
A. Fulton, Son & Co.

The total cost of the building and furnishing is estimated at $70,000.

How far the Board has met the wishes of the taxpayers of the ward is for them to determine. Their endeavors have always been to erect a building suitable for all time to come and creditable to the citizens of the ward.

All which is respectfully submitted.

JNO. E. PARKE, President.

Since the tablet was inscribed Messrs. Crowther and Shea have withdrawn and their places taken by Mr. D. L. Patterson and Rev. D. I. K. Rine.

The Chairman then introduced the Rev. Mr. Moore, who made an eloquent and impressive exposition of the power and value of mental and moral as well as of physical discipline and culture in order to the highest and noblest development. He said no really great or desirable eminence can be attained by an untrained or uneducated man or woman. Some of the noblest and mightiest intellects that have distinguished our race have indeed sprang from obscure parentage, and have attained to a great eminence, not by inheritance or from lineage, but either from a thorough training by the masters in the schools, or from their own persistent and laborous self-culture. Mr. Moore was followed by Rev. W. McIlvar, whose address was replete with sound common sense, appropriate to the occasion He spoke of the school building as surpassing anything he had ever seen in permanence, capacity and adaptation, and in these respects illustrating the high state of advancement in all the appliances and facilities for education at the present day as compared with twenty years ago. He believed that such noble temples were worth their whole cost, for their elevating effect upon the community, and especially upon the young, who shall be taught in them. The Rev. Speaker closed by an earnest plea for moral as well as mental culture in these schools.

The Rev. Dr. A. K. Bell then entertained the audience with some amusing remeniscense of old-time school houses or cabins, school masters and school children, contrasting them with those of to-day, and then with his accustomed earnestness enlarged on the value and significance of the means now at work for the diffusion of knowledge among the people.

A. T. Douthett, Esq., the County School Superintendent, was the next speaker. Mr. Douthett's remarks were laudatory, and justly so, of the sagacity of the local Board and the people of the ward, in providing so noble a building with every needful appurtenance, and so admirable in plan and arrangement, and large enough for the future as well as the present. He also certified to the good judgment of the Directors in the choice of Principal, and the assistant Teachers. The speaker closed with an eloquent commentary on the value of a good education and of good school-houses and good teachers as essential means to that end.

The next speaker was a gentleman from the First ward, we believe. Our reporter being temporarily off duty, we have no notes of his speech. We doubt whether any more reference is due to it. The speaker himself, we know, is of that opinion.

Professor D. L. Eaton was the last speaker. He discussed the subject of schools and education briefly, but with marked ability, as he always does.

We have said that the Allegheny Quartette Club was on the stand. They coutributed largely to enliven and please the audience by rendering in their usual capital style, during the intervals of speaking, various sentimental and comic songs, such as "Dawning Day," "Beautiful Bells," Many Years Ago," "Laugh Boys, Laugh," and "Land of Dreams." The musical exercises were closed, and the audience electrified by "Kingdom Coming," exquisitely rendered by Professor Horner of the Quartette.

A vote of thanks was then carried by acclamation of the citizens present to the Board of Directors for their disinterested and untiring efforts and their complete success in providing a school building for the ward, so ample in size and so well adapted to its educational wants. Also to the Rev. Dr. Clark for kindly consenting to preside on this occasion. Also to the several speakers for their eloquent, appropriate and edifying help. Also, last but not least, to the Allegheny Quartette Club for its welcome and valuable service.

We cannot close without commending the School House in the Fifth Ward as a model well worthy of inspection and imitation by other populous districts. The completeness in quantity and adaption of the furniture is especially noteworthy; it was manufactured by Mr. Guy Freeborn, and is said to be the best finished school furniture in the State. It is made of ash, walnut and cherry lumber. The Teachers' desks are of a new and beautiful design, and are models of good taste and good workmanship. The good people of the Fifth Ward, Allegheny, may well boast of their School Directors, School Teachers, and above all, of their School House.

Washington and Jefferson College.

The action of the Trustees of Washington and Jefferson College in establishing the institution at Washington, it seems will not be quietly acquiesced in by those who oppose the measure, but on the contrary, the matter has been carried into the courts, a step that may result fatally to the institution. George Shiras, Esq., attorney for the complainants, filed a bill in equity in the United States Circuit Court, setting forth the grievances of his clients, and applying for an injunction to restrain the Trustees from removing the College from Cannonsburg. The application for an injunction will be argued on the 14th inst., at Williamsburg, before Hon. Wilson McCandless.

Pittsburgh Female College.

The Fall Term of this sterling institution of our city, taking rank with the best in the country, will be regularly opened on Monday next, the past few days having been devoted to the examination of pupils desiring admission. With those already accepted and provided for, and those to enter during the first few weeks, the term promises to be successful beyond any previous one. Many persons, parents and others, have been at the College during the week, examining the buildings and appointments, and otherwise satisfying themselves of the advantages afforded for the education of girls.

The Sharpsburg Schools.

The Public Schools of Sharpsburg will be re opened on Monday next for the fall and winter term. At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors, Mr. William Joyce, a gentleman of fine scholastic attainments was elected successor to Mr. A. M. Hamilton as Principal. The resignation of the latter gentleman was much regretted, but it is pleasant to know that he is so worthily succeeded, The following accomplished young ladies have been elected to serve as teachers during the ensuing year: Miss Mary Gardiner, Miss Mattie Crawford, Miss Anna E. Russell and Miss Ella Dunlap.

Testimonial to Rev. C. A. Dickey.

Sometime since we announced the resignation of Rev. Mr. Dickey, as pastor of the Fourth Presbyterian church, Allegheny city, and call and acceptance to the pastorate of the New School Presbyterian church in St. Louis. When his resignation was accepted, the congregation very generously voted to present him with a service of silver, as a token of their high appreciation of him as a Christian and minister. The beautiful tea service gift has recently been purchased, and consists of seven pieces and a salver where they may be seen at the establishment of J. B. M'Fadden & Co., Market street. The set is a beautiful pattern, highly chased, elaborate and massive, and the salver is a pretty specimen of handicraft. The following text is engraved on the large waiter: "A Testimonial from the Fourth United Presbyterian church of Allegheny City, to their First Pastor, Rev. Charles A. Dickey, at his resignation, May 31, 1869." The urn has inscribed: "Rev. Charles A. Dickey, presented by his First Congregation, May, 1869." Each of the other pieces has "D." inserted.

This gift indicates a fine spirit on the part of the congregation, and how highly Mr. Dickey was regarded by them. The congregation have also given other evidences of their appreciation of him. This young divine leaves with his family for St. Louis in the course of ten days hence, to enter upon his pastoral duties in that city. Many will unite with us in wishing him great prosperity and success.

AN AUTUMN SONG.

No clouds are in the morning sky,
The vapors hug the stream—
Who says that life and love can die
In all this Northern gleam?
At every turn the maples burn,
The quail is whistling free,
The partridge whirs and the frosted burs
Are dropping for you and me.
Ho! hilly ho! heigh O!
Hilly ho!
In the clear October morning.

Along our path the woods are bold,
And glow with rich desire;
The yellow chestnut showers its gold,
The sumachs spread their fire;
The breezes feel as crisp as steel,
The buckwheat tops are red.
Then down the lane, love, scurry again,
And over the stubble tread!
Ho! hilly ho! heigh ho!
Hilly ho!
In the clear October morning.

DOWN THE OHIO RIVER.

Towns Along the Ohio—Steubenville—Wellsburg—Bethany College and its Surroundings—Castleman Run Camp Meeting—Sunday Services.

Few persons are aware of the numerous towns and cities that the river branch of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad passes through, in the stretch of one hundred miles along the Ohio river, unless they pass over the line. Since the building of this road many of the old places have grown with great rapidity, and new towns have sprang into being at numerous points, which bid fair to be populous and important places. Rochester, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Steubenville seem to be thrifty, especially the latter. Its manufacturing interests are assuming mammoth proportions, and considerable wealth is centered there. Nearly all the towns on the Ohio river are located on the right side. Wellsburg and Wheeling are the only places of note on the opposite shore. Wheeling has been frequently described. Wellsburg is prettily located, and contains some very good buildings. Most of the trade appears to be of a local character. The town is very much like the most of places in Virginia.

We believe not long since a survey was made from the "Pan Handle" route at Steubenville to Wellsburg, to build a railroad, and a branch was also proposed to be built to Bethany, the seat of Bethany College, seven miles from Wellsburg, but it is stated objection was made to its being built because it would be better for the students that the college be located at least several miles from the railroad.

The institution is handsomely located on high ground. The immense pile of buildings is very imposing, and must have cost a large sum of money. The style of architecture is the Collegiate Gothic, and the entire front is four hundred and twenty feet. The attendance last year was one hundred and eighteen students. The graduating class of 1869 numbered seventeen, representing seventeen States. During the twenty-four years of its existence the graduates number three hundred and seventy-two. Rev. W. K. Pendleton is President of the Faculty, assisted by a number of teachers. The spirit of the late Bishop Alexander Campbell is still felt in the community, and considerable wealth is enjoyed by his descendants, living in the town. The rules for the government of the college are quite liberal, admitting students from all denominations.

Two miles beyond Bethany is the celebrated Castleman Run Camp ground, which has been used for religious purposes fifty-five years. Camp meetings have been held in this grove every year during that period, except twice or thrice. The annual gathering has just closed, after an excellent meeting of a week's duration. The grove is peculiarly formed, owing to the course of the run, and resembles a half circle. On every side bluff hills rise, with a dent on either side by which the ground is entered. The hallowed memories of half a century saves it from being abandoned for a more eligible one. Generation after generation of several old and influential families have come up to the spot to worship God. Most of the tents are constructed of boards and are cozy and comfortable. The families occupying the tents are generally well-to-do in worldly goods. Hospitality, in the fullest sense of that term, always abounds. In consequence of the location of the ground, so far from railroad communication, the great number of carriages and other modes of conveyance around the camp, is a sight rarely seen these modern days. Right close to the grove is the Methodist church, which is used in case of rain, and was found very convenient during the rain storm last Saturday evening.

The ground is now the property of Rev. Garrett Jones, a minister of the West Virginia Conference, who was present laboring assiduously to promote the interests of the meeting. Among the princely-hearted tenters, with their families and visiting guests, were Dr. Joshua W. Gist and Joseph Gist, brothers-in-law of Rev. Dr. Joseph Boyle, formerly pastor of Liberty street M. E. church, Pittsburgh, C. H. Beall, Esq., a nephew of the Gists, and his honored parents; Mr. Wm. L. Miller, who resides in fine style near Wellsburgh, and David Worthington, brother of Rev. S. G. J. Worthington, of Illinois, formerly the esteemed pastor of Liberty street M. E. church, of this city. These families are among the elite of that community, wealthy and influential.

The camp-meeting commenced Thursday, 26th ult., and closed Thursday following; the 2d inst. It was under the capital management of Rev. Asbury L. Petty, Presiding Elder of the West Pittsburgh District, which includes part of Pittsburgh. Rev. Dr. Davidson assisted Rev. Mr. Petty considerably. Rev. J. W. Kessler, in charge of the circuit, in which the ground is located, also assisted. The preaching exercises were opened by Rev. E. B. Webster, Fayette. Friday—Revs. I. A. Pearce, Bellair; J. W. Warden, West Virginia; W. F. Lauck, Braddocks Field, preached. Discourses were delivered on Saturday by Revs. A. B. Castle, Bridgeport, Ohio, and Dr. Davidson, Washington, Pa. At night, in consequence of rain, service was held in the church. Rev. Walter Brown, of Franklin, discoursed very acceptably on the "Prodigal Son."

Sunday opened clear and bright, and at eight o'clock the congregation were called to the stand to hear a sermon by Rev. I. A. Pearce, of Bellair, Ohio, who discussed the work and offices of Christ. The sermon was well prepared and delivered in excellent style. At ten o'clock, Dr. Davidson, so well known in Pittsburgh, having been a resident for eight years, preached on the "Pearl of Great Price." An immense throng was present to hear his eloquent utterances. The sermon produced a deep impression. Dr. Davidson is our "Amicus" correspondent at Washington, whose popular letters have been so wisely read. In the afternoon Rev. W. F. Lauck, of Braddocksfield, preached a stirring sermon, during the course of which, he stated that he had joined the Church on that ground thirty-four years ago. The night discourse was delivered by Rev. T. McCleary, of Braddocksfield, who awakened much interest in the discussion of his subject. At the close of his sermon several persons presented themselves for prayers.

Monday the first public service was an experience meeting, after which the Rev. Thomas M. Hudson, of East Springfield, Ohio, an old and highly esteemed minister, preached a sermon of much power. Rev. Mr. Hudson is much beloved for his genial spirit and integrity of character. At the close of the sermon the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered. Similar services occurred each day until the meeting closed. Among the ministers present beside those named were: Revs. A. R. Chapman, of Wellsburg, W. K. Brown, Alliance, O., W. Gamble, Claysville, Pa., G. B. Hudson, New Cumberland, O., Hamilton Cree, M. Dawler, and N. U. Walker. Much disappointment was felt because Drs. Nesbit and Pershing were unable to be present as they had intended.

Antidotes for Poisoning by Morphia, Opium, Laudanum, Strychnine and Arsenic.

[From the Chicago Republican.]

Recently I have noticed very frequent accounts of cases of deaths by poisoning. Under the head of "Suicidal Mania," you give quite a number of deaths by morphine, opium, and strychnine. I am not so much surprised that this class of persons, who shrink life's burdens, should choose so soothing a death-dealing drug as morphia, as I am at the ignorance displayed by many of the physicians who figure in these reports. Many of them seem perfectly helpless, apparently not knowing what to give to antidote this drug. Were they homœopathic physicians, who must study the subtle but potent influence that drugs have over one another, as well as over disease, I am confident you would have less of such cases to chronicle.

The most ready antidote for opium, morphia, or any other of its preparations, is coffee. Just ordinary drinking coffee. When such cases come under observation (and nearly every person knows the symptoms produced by opium), call at once for coffee and give it freely. The stronger the infusion the quicker you will arrest the progress of the poison. As soon as improvement is manifest hold up on the coffee. I could here cite, if necessary, a number of cases, where determined persons tried to commit suicide by taking morphine, opium or laudunum, but were saved by the timely administration of coffee. The physician can prescribe caffeine, the alkalid of coffee, if he chooses to be fastidiously professional.

Camphor is another antidote nearly always at hand, and may be used instead of the coffee or until it is prepared, These two drugs (camphar and coffee) will not work so well together nor follow each other so well as alone. If the case has not gone too far, I consider it an easy matter to save the life of a person under the narcotic influence of opium.

The effects of strychnine are more violent and distressing, and it is, therefore, less used as a suicidal drug. Its antidotes are many. Chief among them stands the all powerful, ever present coffee. In cases of poisoning by this drug, the coffee must be the strongest that can be made, and must be given freely. Camphor is here also a valuable antidote.

Arsenic produces such violent burning and distress in the stomach that it is falling into disfavor with this class of persons. They like to die quietly, without any "fuss." Milk, olive oil, and sequioxide of iron (common iron rust) mixed with milk, should be freely given in cases of poisoning with arsenic.

Strange as it may seem, strychnine is an antidote to opium in a certain degree. In the hands of non-professional or uneducated physicians, they would be apt to do more harm than good if given as an antidote for each other. It should be generally known that coffee is almost a universal antidote to vegetable poisons, while camphor has in additson nearly the samie power over the mineral poisons.

Hoping that these few facts will be the means of saving life,

I am, yours very truly.

Time for Matrimony.

Among the ancient Germans, than whom a finer race never existed, it was death for any woman to marry before she was twenty years old. By the laws of Lycurgus, the most special attention was paid to the physical education, and no delicate or sickly women were, on any account, allowed to marry. Dr. Johnston, in his work of "Economy of Health," says that matrimony should not be contracted until the first year of the fourth septennial on the part of the lady, nor before the last year of the same in the case of the gentleman. In other words, the female should be at least twenty-one years of age, and the male twenty-eight years. The doctor says there should be a difference of seven years between the sexes, at whatever period of life the connection is contracted. There is a difference of seven years; not in the actual duration of life in the two sexes, but in the stamina of the constitution, the symmetry of the form and lineaments of the face. In respect to early marriage, so far as it concerns the softer sex, for every year at which marriage is entered upon before the age of twenty-one, there will be, on an average, three years of premature decay, more or less apparent, of the corporal fabric.

THE young ladies of Dover, Wayne county, have formed a society for the redemption of young men whose habits do not suit them—pledging themselves not to receive the attention of any young man who swears, smokes, chews, loafs on the street corners, or drinks. The amount of "sitting up with the girls" done in that region since the society went into operation is "nothing worth speaking of." An agitation in favor of "suspending the rules" for two evenings a week is expected.

IN FRANCE, butcher's meat is often preserved in hot weather for eight or ten days, by placing it in large earthenware pans, putting heavy stones upon it, and covering it with skimmed milk. The milk as it becomes sour is to be removed and replaced by fresh; but of course can be used as food for pigs.

Planchette.

[From the Toledo Commercial, August 28.]

Planchette seems to be making new developments, as is instanced in the case of a young lady of Battle Creek Mich., who draws with crayons the portraits of deceased persons, as they appeared to their friends while living. The facts in the case are about as follows: While writing with Planchette some time since, it commenced portraying the faces of persons. It then directed her to send to a firm in Chicago and get colored crayons, giving the price, etc, After thinking about it for some time, and having no knowledge of colored crayons, she was induced to send to the parties named, and see if there was any truth in the statements. She found them to be correct, and received the crayons as ordered. Planchette then began drawing the figures on a larger scale, and with some precision. One of the first drawn was recognized as that of a son of her father, who had died before the young lady was born, and persons acquainted with her family could easily detect a resemblance. Another was recognized by a man to be that of a daughter who had removed to California some fourteen years since, and who had been dead about five years. The man being rather skeptical about it, wished Planchette to tell who it was. It wrote something they could not read; and as it seemed to be written backwards, one of the family suggested that a looking-glass be brought to see if it could not be read by the reflection. This was done, and the name "Nancy" was found written distinctly nine times. This fully satisfied the gentleman. Other persons have recognized deceased relatives. One of the drawings in colored crayons is very beautiful, the expression of the countenance being quite life-like.

Planchette commences at the head to draw, and finishes the picture as it advances. When it came to draw the dress of the picture above named, it indicated to the "medium" to take a purple crayon. This she refused to do, saying it would spoil the picture. She strove to resist the "power" for nearly half a day, till at last, exhausted, she gave way and let Planchette take its course. It combined several other colors with the purple, and made a very handsome golden tint, which is the admiration of all who see it.

The young lady cannot account for any of these mysterious workings of Planchette. She has never taken lessons in even the rudiments of drawing, and of herself cannot, undirected, draw even the roughest sketch. We submit the case to the curious.

WOMEN'S rights, it is asserted, will soon be recognized to their full extent in Great Britain, as several of the bills on this subject presented to the English Parliament, recently adjourned, have been passed by that body. Thus, women have now the right to vote at municipal elections, and will hereafter obtain a share of the public endowments for female schools. The Married Women's Property bill passed the House of Commons, and was read for a second time in the House of Lords, but failed to become a law on account of the adjournment. This law, however, is not satisfactory to the women, and at the next session of Parliament a new bill will be introduced, which will be more liberal in its provisions, and impose no restrictions on the wife that are not imposed on the husband.

RUSSIA, it is reported, is suffering from the extraordinary proceedings of numerous political sects that have recently sprung up in that country. The nature of the doctrines preached by these sects may be judged by a recent occurrence in the district of Saratow. A short time ago the prophets of a new religion made their appearance in that part of the empire, preaching self-destruction by fire as the only sure road to salvation; and so readily was this dreadful doctrine received by the ignorant and superstitious peasantry, that in one large village no less than seventeen hundred persons assembled in some wooden houses, and having barricaded the doors and windows, set the buildings on fire and perished in the flames.

A RUSSIAN peasant lately applied to a St. Petersburg book publisher for employment. He said his name was Ivan Pronin; that he lived in the district of Jaroslavi, on the Volga, some 160 miles northeast of Moscow; that he owned a piece of ground, which he cultivated with his own hands; and he would work as a translator from the English, Spanish, French, German and Italian languages. And, to the astonishment of the bookseller, the peasant was found critically familiar with all these languages, having learned them by means of grammars and dictionaries, in his leisure hours after his day's work in the field. He was immediately employed, and proved a most efficient and elegant translator

RUSSIA, it is reported, is endeavoring to extend her influence in Hungary, and has been so successful, that the lower classes, as well as the educated portion of the community, now speak Russian instead of the Magyar language, on public occasions, and at several banquets and meetings Russian plays have been performed. Russian books are being prepared for the use of the people, a Russian almanac for the year 1870 is to be largely circulated among the mountaineers of the Carpathians, and Russian books of arithmetic and universal history have already been published.

MISS SOPHIE WORRELL displayed a great deal of presence of mind, the other night, at Troy. In the course of the performance of "Lallah Rookh," the blonde wig of one of the "peris" suddenly took fire, from a lighted torch, and was immediately in a blaze; whereupon Miss Sophie Worrell plucked off the burning thatch and displayed the black locks of Miss H. O'Neil, who thus escaped severe if not fatal injury. Miss Worrell's hands were badly scorched. The accident did not interrupt the performance.

IT IS said that the Pope's physician and surgeon are always near him when he appears on the throne. The latter stands on wheels which run on a railway. Immediately back of the throne is a chamber hung with curtains, which drop from the canopy and form the back of the Papal throne, are hung on rings and may be easily drawn aside. If the Pope is taken ill, the throne is instantly pushed back into this chamber, where his medical attendants are always to be found.

LETTERS from Cheyenne give details of the Democratic Convention for the nomination of a delegate to Congress. After twenty ballots the names of the principal candidates were put in a hat, and, after shaking up, the first one drawn was declared the choice of the Convention.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P.M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, Sept. 5, 1869.

The markets in a general way present but little that is really new or important. There is no change in either Flour or Grain, the advance in New York and Chicago, to the contrary notwithstanding, as operators here have no confidence in the advance being sustained. There is one thing certain, however, this upward movement has a tendency, for the time being, to retard business and restrict operators, as it has caused a feeling of uncertainty and sensitiveness which will take some time to remove, and until this feeling has partially, at least passed away, there will not be much done.

BUTTER—Prime to choice is scarce and in demand, and may be quoted at 27@30.

GRAIN—As there is no advance in flour here, the mills cannot pay any advance for wheat, and, therefore, we continue to quote at $1,30@135, for fair to prime Red. Oats a little firmer, but unchanged, 45 in first hands, and 47@49 in store. Rye is quoted at $1,10@1,15, the former in first and the latter in second hands. RIVER NEWS.

—The Argosy was loading at Cincinnati for Wheeling, on Wednesday.

—Capt. Jno. N. Rhodes is at Cincinnati, looking after the Kate Putnam and Leonidas.

—The United States survey boat, Tideoute, was below Evansville, when last heard from.

—Capt. John Booth says he will have his barges in the ring for a New Orleans trip within thirty days.

—Mr. John Chambers, an old Pittsburgher, but who for several years has been steamboating on the Arkansas river, was in Cincinnati on Wednesday.

—The wreck of the ill-fated Cumberland lies in the channel, opposit Brown's Island, and abreast of the lower cornshed below Raleigh. Boats can pass on either side of it.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette of Thursday: Mr. Smith N Fowler yesterday purchased of Capt. I. L. Thompson, G. W. Thompson and others, the steamer Edinburgh, for $15,000, the boat to be turned over to her new owner next Monday. It is understood that Captain R. S. Yerkes will take command of the Edinburgh, and put her in the Arkansas river trade.

—The Wheeling Intelligencer, of Thursday says: The dam across back river between the bridge and the mouth of Indian Wheeling creek, is nearly finished. But a few feet on the west side remain to be filled. The work looks strong and subsubstantial from the bridge, and will be a positive benefit to the navigation of back river, and increase the volume of water on this side of the island.

SECURITY AND COMFORT for the traveling community.

J. B. HARRIS

Safety Fire Jacket, Car Heater and MODERATOR.

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. Also Territorial rights to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges either by State or county.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 55¾f.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 88⅜.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 136¼@136⅜.

THE acts of the Rebel Congress, sequestrating the property of Northern men, as that of aliens, during the war, have been declared by the Supreme Court null and void.

THE northern trunk-lines of railway, beaten in the present competition for speed, are now talking of another schedule for next week, of only twenty-four hours from New York to Chicago.

MARYLAND politics wear a very promising aspect for our Republican friends. The opposition are so bitterly divided that their reunion seems impossible. Their quarrel is all about the colored question.

A PUPIL is educated in the Pittsburgh High School for $40 per annum. The expense at Cincinnati is $40.10; Chicago $56; Louisville $75; Cleveland $108. The grade of attainment here is quite equal to anything realized in sister cities, and at this very favorable showing for cost.

HON. G. A. GROW has been mentioned to the President as the proper man for the Chinese mission, which is now vacant. The Administration could not make an appointment for this place more acceptable to the Republicans of Pennsylvania, with all of whom Mr. GROW is deservedly a favorite.

THE California election results in the choice of a Democratic legislature, which will reject the XVth Article. The preceding legislature had six Republican majority in the Senate, and a Democratic majority of fourteen in the House. GRANT carried the Presidential vote by 514. The regular opposition ticket has probably been defeated in San Francisco.

IN THE forthcoming National Convention of the various municipal Boards of Trade, to be held at Keokuk, Iowa, the people have much interest, as some action will be taken concerning river navigation between the ports of Pittsburgh and New Orleans, a subject of vital importance to our own community. Yesterday the Board of Trade of this city appointed the following gentlemen, who fairly represent the marine and general interests of the city, as delegates to the Convention:

Hon. J. K. Marshall, Joseph Dilworth, Esq.,
Hon. Jas. S. Negley, John F. Dravo,
Hon. Robert Knight, Joseph Walton,
Hon. Thos. Howard, Wm. H. Baum,
Hon. Jas. Blackmore, Wm Coleman,
Col. James K. Kerr, Geo. H. Anderson,
Maj. Wm. Frew, Robert Arthurs, Esq.,
Capt. M. W. Beltzhoover, R. F. Smythe,
C. W. Batchelor, Esq., James Reese.

WE HEAR from Washington a report that, in the recent Cabinet meeting, it was stated by Secretary Fish that twenty-one States had filed official notice, in his Department, of their ratification of the new XVth Article. We do not entirely credit this report. A recent publication in a Washington journal specified but twelve States as having lodged their certificates. We should like to see an official list, exhibiting the precise facts. It is scarcely possible that so large a number of the States have already taken perfected action in favor of the Article. In view of the public anxiety on this head, it is somewhat remarkable that no entirely authentic record, up to the present date, has yet appeared from the Department.

THE Columbus Journal devotes four columns to the official record of Mr. Pendleton, the present choice of the Ohio Democracy for their Governor. Mr. Pendleton is another of the P's, a particular friend and fellow-politician with Mr. Asa Packer. The only difference between the two candidates is this—that the Ohio man has the intellectual capacity, which our P. has not, to write letters and make speeches. This capacity he has exemplified by eight years of disloyal talk and equally disloyal votes, while all the other gentleman could do was to pat Vallandigham on the back, and say "ste-boy." In fact, however, the Ohio record shows just how the millionaire monopolist of the Lehigh would have talked and voted, if his education and opportunities had permitted it. It is a long and dreary and humiliating record of doughface subserviency, partisan malignity, and hate for the boys in blue, and for the old flag for which their toil and blood were given on hundreds of battle-fields.

ANNUALLY, in September or thereat bouts, a venerable citizen of Ohio, Hon. THOMAS EWING, is impelled, "by the present disturbed state of the country," to print a letter, ostensibly addressed to a dozen or so of his octogenarian friends, and covering usually the broad side of such newspapers as are rash enough to print it, in which the melancholy fact is stated that the Republic is fast galloping to the "demnition bow-wows" under Republican rule. Mr. EWING'S latest periodical visitation upon the patience of his ruined countrymen appears in a Cincinnati paper of the 2nd. He declares, in ponderous periods, that everything is all wrong, and getting worse every day. It is said that Mr. MILLARD FILLMORE agrees with him in this saddening view. If the latter could be induced to say so, in ten solid columns of a Buffalo newspaper, it would afford as unerring an indication of another Republican victory in New York, as we gather, for Ohio, from Mr. EWING'S recent jeremiad. The mighty current of events rolls on, over these venerable fossils, boulders of the glacial period, fast anchored to the bottom.

KNOW a man by the company he prefers! Mr. Asa Packer, whose cordial hospitalities were extended to Vallandigham in 1862, had also another Ohio friend by the name of Pendleton. The latter was in Congress in '64 and voted against a resolution introduced by Gen. Smith, of Ky., and which expressed a terribly Radical idea as follows:

"WHEREAS, A most desperate, wicked and bloody rebellion exists within the jurisdiction of the United States, and the safety and security of personal and national liberty depend upon its utter and absolute extinction; therefore,

Resolved, That it is the political, civil, moral and sacred duty of the people to meet it, fight it and crush it, and forever destroy it."

Mr. Pendleton was one of the sixteen nays recorded against that resolution. His friend Packer would have made the number seventeen, if he had been a member. These two men are now candidates for the highest offices of two great States, put up by the same party, and standing on the same platform as in '64—one of opposition to the duty of the people to meet, fight, crush and destroy a wicked rebellion. It was crushed, but without the aid of either of these gentlemen, who now propose to undo as much as they can of the nation's great work.

MORTON'S SPEECH.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania, and all the friends of an honest government, of an unbroken Union, of the National good name and of the public repose, owe their hearty thanks to Senator MORTON for his clear and exhaustive exposition of the merits of current political questions. It is very gratifying to us all to know that Pittsburgh gave to the distinguished Senator, on Thursday evening, an audience such as was not once gathered into the City Hall during the sharp and exciting canvass of 1868. In numbers, in intelligence, in patience and in thorough concord with the speaker, the audience was one as worthy of our cities, and of our Republicanism, as of the speaker. We need not add that he was equal to the occasion.

We need not indulge in any extended review of the address. Heard by so many thousands, very many of them have again read our faithful report, which has gone to the friends of other thousands of the people of the Commonwealth. All these will mark well and digest the matter spread before them, and give their opinion of it five weeks from next Tuesday.

Why and when the friends of the Union reshaped their political ideas upon the status of Southern institutions, the noteworthy statement in relation to the Winter-Davis bill, the reference to Providential guidance of the reconstruction matter, the merits of equal suffrage, the clear exposition of sound financial ideas, the operations of the existing system of taxation and, finally, the interests of public virtue and social morality, with the resulting duty of the intelligent friends of true and valuable progress in the path of reform—these were matters so well handled by the Senator that any words of ours would but diminish the force of what he said. His address will tell with powe ful effect upon political opinion in the Commonwealth.

CAUTION TO THE DEMOCRACY.

We give our Democratic readers fair notice that, in supporting their nomination of this year, in this Commonwealth, they must not rely too implicitly upon the defeat of Equal Suffrage. It is true that your State platform denounces this doctrine of equality, and you would very naturally take it for granted that this expresses the National sentiment of your party. In this you reckon without acquaintance with the facts.

Opposing colored suffrage in Pennsylvania, your party, in Ohio, stands ready to adopt it as soon as circumstances may warrant. The Ohio platform of this year ignores the question altogether, except in a few words of twaddle about State rights. The Democracy of that State are all ready, in light marching order, for a "new departure," as soon as the word is given by their leaders. In New York, says the World, "the Democracy never harbored an illiberal feeling toward the negroes of the State. We are willing that they should vote, as they have always voted since 1821, on a moderate property qualification." The Louisville Courier says: "Is the Democracy united on the negro question? In Mississippi, Massachusetts and Tennessee, the Democratic or Conservative elements are committed to negro suffrage." In Virginia, all parties are alike committed to the same doctrine. The same is indeed true of every Southern State, where your Democratic friends thoroughly comprehend that they can never, whether the XVth Article is or is not adopted, abrogate the equal suffrage which now prevails in all of the late rebel States.

Perhaps you have imagined that this new Article has been expressly leveled at those States, in order to ensure the perpetuity of their present doctrine of equality at the polls. Not so. The Article, if it may be supposed to have one especial intent more than another, is intended to reach existing institutions in all those Northern States which at present repudiate this principle of a true Democracy, and in the three border States of Delaware, Maryland and Kentucky.

You will observe, if you but keep open half an eye, that your friends throughout the North do not agree with your Harrisburg platform. Pennsylvania alone stands squarely in Democratic opposition to equal suffrage. Ohio is now committed, and your party in every other Northern State stands to-day as dumb as oysters upon this issue.

How is it in the border States? The Louisville Courier, which we have quoted, speaks for Kentucky, and significantly. In Maryland, more than one Democratic journal unites with the Prince Georgian, one of the ablest newspapers of the party in the State, in appealing to their and your friends "to admit the colored population to the suffrage," with or without the XVth Article, and "to welcome them as men and brethren." Delaware is an insignificant element in the question, at any rate; she will follow the crowd in either direction.

Your party is on the eve of what they style "a new departure." This means that you are about to turn your backs upon issues as to which it is better for you that they be dead than living; your leaders are to-day in council upon the need for a complete revision of your political policy, a prominent feature of which concerns this business of equal suffrage.

Here, in Pennsylvania, you cling to the old exploded ideas which, again and again have misled you to disastrous defeats, and will do so once more, four weeks from next Tuesday. Thousands of you imagine your party to be united and sincere in its hatred for the negro, and its contempt for the negroe's rights. Don't deceive yourselves. In the very hour when your leaders made up this platform for you, at Harrisburg, they knew that the Democratic judgment in nearly every other State was contemplating a surrender on that point, and that within two years, you, too, must follow that lead. They have deliberately premeditated a treachery, playing upon your old-time prejudices for to-day, to get one more vote for the negro-exclusion which they and you alike are soon to desert forever.

Says the Louisville paper which we have already quoted: "The Democracy has at the present time no common ground to stand on, no policy that can be called national." Neither on the negro nor on the financial questions, can they agree. "The Eastern wing of the party is committed to a financial policy which is absolutely rejected at the West, whilst at the South repudiation outright is the prevailing sentiment." Nearly all the Georgia press, conspicuously the Macon Journal and Augusta Constitution, demand a new declaration of Democratic principles since "the South feels no interest in the effort to galvanize the dead issues about which Northern Democrats choose to fight." Says the Chicago Times: "There is no victory in dead issues; we want fresh ideas; we cannot [illegible] stand still." And so thr[illegible]emoc[illegible] Union, except among the de[illegible]our dea[illegible]racy of Pennsylvania. [illegible]annot [illegible]ual suffrage, [illegible]d issues here, if you [illegible]our own par[illegible]it us better. Fight [illegible]on that line at t[illegible] if you are blind [illegible]y is ready to de[illegible]he tap of a drum. [illegible]hall beat you, [illegible]l issues until [illegible]ake living ones whi[illegible]ch cut loose [illegible]ast. Surrender your Copperheadism; accept results; march forward with events and present to the people a Democracy which recognises equal freedom and equal rights for all the living citizens of the Republic. Then we will meet you, and perhaps with an universal concord. But so long as you reject even the least of the legitimate consequences of that great struggle which finally blotted out slavery from the Constitution and gave to the world, for the first time, a Republic in theory wholly free,—so long as you persist in standing on copperhead platforms, in nominating candidates whose records are all over blood-shot with their complicity in disloyal opposition to the Union cause, and in boasting of your fidelity to such wretched remnants of a lost cause as this hostility to the colored race—so long, the dead will issues live, to scourge you year after year.

But don't think, when October comes, that your votes will count, as you are led to hope, for the permanent rejection of colored suffrage. Even if you carry one election, the Democracy of the Union are more against you than for you, and in another year or two you will have to undo all you could now accomplish. We warn you, honest Democrats, that your anti-negro plank is intentionally a humbug, a delusion, a snare. The Democracy of Pennsylvania will throw it overboard in a year or two, and you will uphold the equal suffrage of all men as heartily as we do to-day. Can you do a wiser thing, than to come with us now?

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Presbyterian urges the Board of Publication to issue a series of uniform lessons for the various classes and departments of the Sunday-schools under its care, as the Methodists and Baptists have done, instead of using those prepared by private publishing houses. While it questions this mode of imparting instruction, and assisting teachers, inasmuch as the plan is popular and generally introduced, it thinks the Board of Publication should provide for its people suitable uniform lessons.

Ministers are frequently blamed for being too censorious in their feelings, in regard to dancing and such amusements. Richard Grant White, quite an authority in literary circles, comes to the aid of the clergy, and pronounces dancing at fashionable receptions as "an empty evolution practiced by young gentlemen and ladies whose scarcity of brains forbids their being entertained in any other way."

Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, in Chicago, has inaugurated a series of organ concerts on Saturday afternoons, at exceedingly low rates, fifteen cents a single admission, or ten tickets for a dollar. It is thought these Saturday afternoon matinees will benefit the church, and cultivate a healthful musical taste in the congregation.

The two General Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church at their meeting in New York, recommended the churches throughout both Branches of the Presbyterian Church, to observe the second Sabbath in September, as a day of fervent and united prayer to Almighty God, that he would grant all "the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord," and in the new relation contemplated, of the union of both Branches, to "keep the unity of the Spirit in the bonds of peace."

Sunday afternoon last, Bishop Domenec, of the Pittsburgh Catholic Diocese, preached in St. Andrew's church, Allegheny City, at the close of which he confirmed eighty-five persons, including a number of candidates and converts.

Dr. Franklin Moore, formerly of Pittsburgh Conference, now of the Philadelphia Conference of the M. E. Church, has gone to California for the benefit of his health. His throat is severely affected and disables him from pulpit services.

Pittsburgh hospitality will be taxed to a considerable degree to entertain the two General Assemblies of the Presbyterian Church and the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, but we think the good reputation of this community will not suffer in this respect by the pressure. The Board of Commissioners will meet on the 5th of October, and the General Assemblies on the 10th of November.

Dr. Plumer, formerly of the Western Theological Seminary, whose home is now at Columbia, South Carolina, has been supplying the First Presbyterian (Dr. Van Dyke's) church, in Brooklyn, this summer. The Presbyterian represents that Dr. Plumer's Commentary on the Psalms has been so acceptable that it has reached the third edition.

At a recent camp meeting in St. Mary's county, Maryland, several Roman Catholics were among the conversions.

At the recent consecration of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Erie, Pa., Bishop Kerfoot and Rev. Mr. Scarborough, Rector of Trinity church in this city, preached, and Revs. Egar, Hartman and others of this Diocese, participated, in the services of the occasion.

It was stated at the annual meeting of the General Association of Congregationalists of New Hampshire, some days since, that formerly one-third to over one-half of the graduates of Dartmouth College entered the ministry; but now not over one-sixth. Reports on the state of religion are generally favorable.

Dr. Alemany, the Roman Catholic Arch-Bishop of California, says the Independent, claims the absolute control of the Sunday religious services of the Roman Catholic children in the Industrial School at San Francisco, on the ground that two-thirds of the children are Catholics. The Protestant clergy oppose it, affirming the present religious services are "broadly liberal," and that the proposal would convert the whole into a Roman Catholic institution.

Dr. G. F. Davis, a Baptist minister, preached on a very stormy Sabbath, in South Reading, Mass., when only eight hearers were present, from 1 Peter, 111: 20; wherein few, that is, eight souls—were saved by water.

The twenty-third annual meeting of the American Missionary Society will be held at Mount Vernon, Ohio, Wednesday, October 27th. Sermon in the evening by President Sturtevant.

Reference was made recently to holding a special service in Christ Episcopal church, Allegheny City, for the purpose of devising means to provide services for Churchmen from the old country. In accordance with this request, an immense concourse of people assembled in that church on Sunday evening last, including quite a number of persons educated in the Church of England abroad, and also visiting strangers from other religious bodies. Bishop Kerfoot preached an able sermon bearing upon the interest in hand, and produced a fine impression. It was announced that the further consideration of the subject would take place to-morrow evening, by the Rector, Rev. B. F. Brooke, at which time it is expected those interested, and for whom these special services are designed to reach, will be present on that occasion.

A correspondent of the Presbyterian Banner condemns the practice of selecting ministers to take charge of schools, when so many parishes need pastors, and there are so many laymen well qualified as instructors.

Vine-street Congregational Church, Cincinnati, under the pastoral care of Rev. H. D. Moore, formerly of this city, has been undergoing repairs for some time. The church was re-opened last Sunday with suitable services.

Bishop Kingsley, in one of his graphic letters from Salt Lake City, says the Mormon preachers take no text, but preach about keeping up fences and other secular matter, and the best way to get along independently of the Gentiles.

A Methodist attending a Presbyterian Convention, out West, was asked what he was doing there. He replied, "When I get to heaven I expect to find so many Presbyterians there, that I would like to get a little acquainted with them beforehand."

The First United Presbyterian Church in Boston, Rev. Dr. Blaikie, are about to lay the corner-stone of a new church edifice.

Washington Items.

The following changes of Postmasters in Pennsylvania were made: Plum, Venango county, J. C. Crowthers, vice J. M. Newton, resigned; Conneautville, Crawford county, J. D. Van Tassel, vice R. B. Heynes, resigned; Dawson's Station, Fayette county, J. B. Snyder, vice J. Newmeyer, removed.

The question of the authority of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to order the transfer of a Supervisor to duty from one district to another is the subject of discussion here. It is held by legal authority that such a right does not exist in law, and that to secure a transfer it is necessary to first discharge the officer, and then to reappoint him to another district.

There is no impropriety in stating that the basis on which General Sickles is instructed to offer the mediation of our Government, is that Spain shall acknowledge the independence of Cuba, with the understanding that whatever compensation she may consider herself entitled to, is to be determined by a commission of disinterested parties, but in no case is our Government to become responsible for the payment of any sum agreed upon. The compensation is to reimburse the Spanish Government for public buildings, forts, and such other public property as may be surrendered to the Cuban authorities.

Governor Senter, in the course of conversation on the Fifteenth Amendment, said he has no doubt the Legislature just elected will ratify it. The Legislature elect convenes by law on the first Monday in October, and Governor Senter is of the opinion that he has no authority under the Constitution of Tennessee to call together the old one. Mr. Senter intimated, although he did not say so in so many words, that he would not call any extra session of the Legislature. There is a diversity of opinion on his legal right to convene the body; some legal gentlemen maintain that he has the power to do so, and his opponents say that he merely wishes to dodge the question and escape any responsibility on the subject.

Troublesome Youth.

Yesterday Charles B. Taylor, a somewhat eccentric character, made information before Alderman Shore against Thomas Barbin for assault and battery. Taylor is an old gentleman, and from his peculiarities has been made the sport of the youthful fraternity who reside near the head of Wylie street, in which locality he stops. He seems to have no home and occupies an old board pile as a lodging place, getting his meals it is not known where through the day. He alleges that Barbin struck him two or three violent blows with his fist without cause or provocation. The accused was arrested and gave bail for Court.

Poplar Alley Troubled.

There is trouble among the denizens of Poplar alley. Mrs. Dafney Mills and Elizabeth Brown, females of dusky hue, are the disturbers of the peace of that sequestered locality. They had a little difference arising out of the sale of a certain lot of shingles, which each claims as her own. The misunderstanding led to demonstrative actions on the part of Mrs. Brown, which caused her more peaceful opponent to try a settlement of the affair in a suit for disorderly conduct before Alderman Shore, Elizabeth being set down as defendant. Aldermanic wisdom will endeavor to elucidate the case to-day.

Methodist Conference, Pittsburgh District.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Sept. 1, 1869.

The members of the Pittsburgh Annual Conference of the Methodist Church, convened in the Methodist church at Fairmont, W. Va., to-day, to hold their Annual Session, James Robison, President, in the Chair.

The session was opened under the direction of the President, Drs. Brown, Springer, Laishly and President Mahan, of Adrian College, participating in the devotional exercises, which occupied about two hours' time, and was truly a precious time, and a good preparation for the business of the Conference.

The roll was then called and nearly all entitled to seats, about an equal number of ministers and laymen, responded to their names. It being nearly twelve o'clock, the session adjourned to meet at half past one o'clock. Closed with prayer.

Half past one P. M., Conference opened. Religious exercises conducted by Dr. Collier. Roll called, minutes read and approved, and business resumed.

Quite a number of ministers from different denominations were introduced and voted to honorary seats.

Several committees were elected. Saturday afternoon at three o'clock was set apart to hear President Mahan on Adrian College interests. The present Secretaries, Colhour and Patten, were re-elected. The President read his annual report, showing the churches throughout the district nearly all in a very prosperous condition.

Wm Collier, D. D., after a tie vote with his predecessor, Rev. James Robison, was elected President of Conference for the ensuing year.

J. Robison and D. R. Helmick, ministers, and John Croft and G. W Pogue, laymen, were elected Committee on Pastoral Relations, and Rev. J. L. Simpson, Conference Steward.

Adjourned for the day.

SECOND DAY.

Session opened with religious service conducted by Rev. J. L. Simpson. Roll called, and minutes of yesterday afternoon session read and approved.

Ministers gave brief accounts of their operations during the past year, and the conditions of the churches they served.

After hearing from a number of the members, the President announced the usual committees.

Adjourned with prayer. C

Provided with Homes.

Yesterday two children, sisters, named Felzer, who have been inmates of the City Poor House, were bound out according to the stipulations provided. The youngest, aged four years, found a home with Mr. John Arlig, and the other, six years of age, was taken charge of by Mr. Samuel Neely.

The stipulations of indenture in cases of this kind are that the children shall be taught the mysteries of housekeeping, and in all respects be well cared for, until they reach the age of eighteen, when they are each to be presented with a suit of clothing of the value of forty dollars and the sum of seventy-five dollars in lawful money and their freedom.

—A terrible tragedy occurred in the town of Orrwell, N. Y., Thursday afternoon. A farmer named John Reynolds was stabbed several times by a neighbor named Russell Woolver. Reynolds expired almost immediately. The difficulty arose from alleged trespasses and other land trouble.

DR. KEYSER'S BOWEL CUEE is one of the most valuable remedies ever discovered for all diseases incident to this season of the year. Hundreds of sufferers could be relieved in less than a day by a speedy resort to this most valuable medicine, particularly valuable, when the system is apt to become disordered by the two ree use of unripe and crude vegetables.

Price 50 Cents. Sold at DR. KEYSER'S GREAT MEDICINE STORE, 167 Liberty St., and by all druggists.

A REGULAR HABIT OF BODY

Is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of person cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs and one of its most common results is CONSTIPATION. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants—such as an unpleasant breath, a sallow skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a nervine, or a blood depurent, or a cathartic, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It lends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, gently stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is as harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange Place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine Street, N. Y., offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay seven per cent. in Gold; have thirty years to run; are Free from Government Taxation; are secured by a Land Grant of Three Million Acres of the Finest Lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the Company also owns Three Millions of Acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation, 437 miles long, upon which it is also a mortgage, NOW EARNS MORE THAN ENOUGH NET INCOME TO PAY THE INTEREST ON THE NEW LOAN. There is no better security in the market—this being in some respects better than Government Securities. PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD. Price 96, and accrued Interest, in Currency. FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, Sept. 3, 1869.

Government bonds are fluctuating, rapidly following the market for gold. It is evidently the desire of the clique in gold to depress quotations in Europe for our bonds, in order to advance the rates on gold. So far the quotations from Europe are very favorable, and it appears our securities are in better demand now than ever.

Gold sold from 135¼ to 136⅛, the closing quotations at 2 P. M. The market, however, is in a condition to break as soon as the clique begin to sell, which most likely will be between this and Wednesday next.

Stocks are weak and dull, tending downward. Money easy,

NEW YORK, September 3, 1869.

Money active and sharp at 7 per cent., closing with a better supply and some exceptional at 6 per cent. Sterling dull and heavy at 8⅛@9. Gold active and excited; opened at 135⅝, fell to 135¼, and closed at 136⅛@136⅜. Borrowing rates to-day 1-64 to 1-32 per cent. Clearances, $197,000,000. The clique bought a million at 135¼. A small failure on the "bear" side is reported, and there were rumors that some firms having sold largely of calls were in trouble.

Governments are strong, particularly on gold bearing issues, and German bankers are large purchasers of new bonds. Coupons '81, 123@123⅛; do. '62, 122¾@123; do. '64, 122¼@122½; do. '65, 122¾@122½; do. new, 120⅞@121; do. '67 121⅛@121¼; do. '68, 120⅞@121. 10-40's, 111¾@112. Pacifics 110¾@111.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, September 3, 1869.

The market closed strong last night, and opened firm this morning, but in the afternoon there was a slight reaction, and the advance, previously established, was partially lost. This upward movement is attributed to the material falling off in the shipments, as well as the fact that the impression prevails in New York that most of our refineries have suspended operations, and operators there who are short are a little apprehensive, and inclined to cover. The advance to-day, however, is more directly attributed to the operations of two large New York houses, who had orders to buy several thousand barrels for this month, and a pretty sharp competition brought about the result already alluded to. In proof of this it is asserted that after these orders were filled, there were no other buyers at the advance, and, as a consequence, the figures that were realized in the forenoon could not be obtained towards evening. That the market is stronger than it was yesterday and the day previous, is conceded, and the general feeling at this time is that prices will probably go higher, and this is assumed on the ground of a suspension of operations by our refiners, and diminished shipments to the seaboard.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, Sept. 3, 1869.

The only noticeable feature in the metal market this week is a material falling off in the receipts from the West, which may be attributed to the fact that many of the furnaces, both in the Mahoning and Shenango Valleys, have gone out of blast. The demand, however, is only moderate, and is confined mainly to small lots for immediate consumption, the inquiry for future deliveries being light. In regard to prices, there is no change, one way or the other, worthy of special notice. Following is the report of sales.

NEW YORK, September 3.—With rising 3,100 Cattle to-day, making 7,900 for the week, the market is upset again and nearly all the late advance lost, nor can all the Cattle be sold at prices ranging from 12c to 16c, and scarcely anything touched 16½c, and not many reached 16c. The Cattle are not as good as they were on Wednesday; a drove of 9¼ cwt. Illinois steers was sold at 15½c; 150 head 8 cwt. steers brought 15½@16c; 40 head Indiana 5¼ cwt. at 13c, and 6¾ cwt. Texans at 12½c. The arrivals of Sheep were 3,450 head: the market is scarcely so firm, but prices are unchanged; the only stock offered runs as follows: poorer, sales 2 cars, empty from cars, 83 pounds, at 6c; 1 car State, 67 pounds and poor, at 4½c; 2 cars, 80 pounds, at 5⅝c; a lot of Canada, 92 pounds, at 6½c; 90 Michigan, 72 pounds, at 5½c. How He Fixed Her.

Hotel-keepers usually charge "half-price" for the board of children. When we enter upon the business of a jolly host, our terms for the average of nineteenth century young America will be not "half-price," but double price. The stowage capacity of a youngster may be limited. His proclivity toward waste knows no bounds. If anything in a hotel comes under the head of a first class nuisance, it is a young gentleman of five years, whose mother supposes him to be an infant Napoleon. We met with such a shaver at a Quaker hotel at Atlantic City. Young Oscar was drumming with a pair of sticks upon the handsomest walnut balustrade of one of the best kept hotels upon the Island. This didn't suit the notions of the worthy landlord. "Little boy," said he, in a paternal manner, "if thee wants to drum, thee must do thy drumming outside of the house." The wayward youngling laughed the landlord to scorn. Instead of stopping he accelerated the movement of the sticks. The worthy Friend serenely took him by the scruff of the neck and placed him in the back yard.

About two minutes afterward the youngster's mother came down the stairs, fairly blazing with ire. She was a gorgeously gotten up widow. She opened a masked battery of invectives against the Quaker host. He endured it with all the mildness that clusteres around a dish of early lamb: "I'll leave this house instantly," was the remark with which she wound up her torrent of excited words.

She had no sooner finished this sentence than the tranquil Quaker touched a bell. It brought to his presence a solemn and intensely respectable-looking African in a painfully white apron and paper collar. "Leonidas," said the landlord, mildly, "go up to 42 and bring down this Friend's baggage when she tells thee she is ready for thee. If she wants thee to get a carriage for her, or has any other commands until she is gone, thee will see them attended to." The landlord was about to withdraw. The lady by this time had begun to cool off. She may have glanced at the battered balustrade, and possibly an idea struck her that her Oscar wasn't quite an angel just yet.

Certain it was that she didn't expect to leave the house. It was equally certain from her altered manner that she didn't want to do so. She hauled in her horns to the extent of several inches. She apologized—did everything except ask to be allowed to retain her room. From this humiliation she was spared by the substantial, square-toed honesty of her host. "My house," said he, "shall never make any one a liar. My book keeper will settle with thee. Fare thee well."

The last seen of the lady she was imbibing unexpected caloric to young Oscar on a strip of shingle, while Leonidas was wrestling upon the stairs with two hat boxes and a Saratoga trunk.—Phila. North American.

An Eccentric German.

The will of a rich German nobleman was contested and an attempt made to set it aside by his relations, on the ground that he had left his large fortune to his wife, who was not his equal in life, having been a waiting-maid at a country inn, who had merely married him for his money. He was thirty years her senior, and had many ugly personal defects; but it was charged that through her persuasive manners she had unduly influenced him in the disposition of his property, and in his last sickness had especially worked upon him so as to induce him to overlook his near relations, both brothers and sisters. By the laws in Germany, all persons can testify in their own case, and by an equally good law public sentiment holds ignorance to be a crime, so that all are educated. When this waiting-girl that was, appeared on the witness stand she was not only a most beautiful creature, put a most intelligent one also. She stood up uncovered before the court and jury, as is the usage there, neither willing nor reluctant to testify. She said, "Although it is true that my station in life was far below my dear, departed husband, and the disparity in age great, yet I saw, when he first addressed me, that his intentions were honorable and his principles good, and to a liberal and sweet disposition he added a cultivated mind, and in these good qualities I saw his beauty. As to influencing him, she added, in the disposition of his property, she had never mentioned the matter to him. In the four years of happiness that they had lived together, money was never mentioned, nor did she ever know that he had made a will. As to his last sickness, she well remembered his last words—and here she stopped. One of the lawyers asked her to state what they were. She modestly replied that she would prefer not to do so.

The opposing counsel, conceiving that her answer would be in favor of his clients, insisted on it, and the judge kindly said that she would by the laws have to do so, as she must tell them all. She then said: "He had been sick for several days, and I was sitting near him at the window, knitting, when he beckoned me to come still colser to him." He said: "Fredericka, my dear, kiss me and get the glasses and open that bottle of champagne, for I am about to leave you, and let us take our last farewell;" and sobbing in her handkerchief, she continued, "which we did, and he died." The case was given to the jury without argument, and they returned a verdict for the widow in less than five minutes.

SIR W. THOMSON, a distinguished English scientist, holds that the sun has illuminated the earth at least a million of years, but not five hundred millions; that there are not enough meteors circulating around the sun—which are its only fuel—to supply it more than a few thousand years longer; and that, as there seems to be no continual supply for the sun's heat, it must be losing energy.

Is there a Lineal Bonaparte Alive?

The Imperial Criminal Court of Vienna has received a letter signed "Prince Eugene Joseph Napoleon Bonaparte," and dated Stutgardt, June 28, of the present year. In it the writer claims to be the son of the King of Rome, the sole offspring of the great Napoleon and of Maria Louisa, better known to history as the Duke of Reichstadt. The claimant avers that his mother, a "descendant of an old and noble Hungarian family," was "very secretly married" to the Duke of Reichstadt, by whom she had two children, twins, the writer and a girl, now "the wife of Prince George in Saxony." The writer also claims that as a boy he was raised by a tailor named Ludwig, of Wurzen, Saxony, on whom he was foisted by the act of his mother, whom he says is still living, and of knowledge of whose whereabouts he charges his sister—a knowledge he invokes the courts to enjoin her to divulge, as also he wishes to have an order for the examination of his birth and baptismal certificate to be entered up. This is the case as made out circumstantially. Of course, only inquiry can demonstrate it to be the truth, or explode it as a fallacy. Against the probable truthfulness of the tale, however, exist the facts that the personation of princes has been the dodge of ingenious impostors for centuries, the absence of any rumor even hitherto that the Duke of Reichstadt, who died at twenty-three, of consumption, ever married, and the current impression, fortified by all kinds of sub-historical narration, that the young man was an imbecile in a double sense. The investigation of the alleged marriage and sonship will hardly arise to the dignity of judicial action, and is likely to furnish only fleeting food for quid nuncs who delight to delve out pretenders, whether French or English.

Narrow Escape of a Lion-Tamer.

A Paris letter reports that Mr. Lucas, the lion-tamer, has had a very narrow escape of being eaten by his lions at the Hippodrome in that city. He went into the cage where there were two lions and two lionesses with only a whip in his hand, instead of the heavy cudgel which he generally carries. A lioness, presuming upon his being unarmed, sprung at him and seized him by the nape of the neck. A cry of horror arose from the spectators. Many women fainted, and others rushed out of the theatre. The other lions, attracted by blood, rushed upon Lucas, and bit and scratched him severely. In a few moments he would certainly have been killed had not one of his assistants, who was not in the habit of entering the cage, come forward and knocked the lion about the head with an iron bar. It is reported Lucas said to him, "Go away, leave me to die alone." Howthat may be, the man dragged Lucas away from the lions. He is now lying at his mother-in-law's house, No. 31 Avenue Montague, in a most precarious state. The doctors have discovered no less than thirty-one wounds. It is feared that even if he should recover he will be a cripple for life. The heroism of the man by whom he was rescued is the theme of enthusiastic praises. M. Arnaud, the manager of the Hippodrome, had the presence of mind to close the door of the cage when the faithful servant got Mr. Lucas out of it, otherwise the lion might have made a raid upon the audience.

The Frozen Well of Brandon.

Brandon, Vermont, contains a very singular natural curiosity in the shape of a frozen well. In the fall of 1859, Mr. Andrew Trembiy dug a well upon the sloping ground west of the railroad and about a quarter of a mile from the station. After penetrating the earth fifteen feet, he came to frozen earth, and dug through this twenty-three feet before finding water. The well is forty one feet deep, with three feet depth of water. The well is stoned up. Near the water the stones are incrusted with ice, and the water has an icy coldness which it retains some time after being drawn. We saw the ice upon the walls of the well by the aid of a glass. As the weather grows cold the water of the well congeals, and about the latter part of November they are unable to obtain water. The water continues sealed until April. Formerly they had a boy who descended the well and broke the ice, and thus enabled the family to obtain water for a longer time. But since his leaving, the well has been a sealed fountain during the time stated above. Two other wells have been dug on the same slope, one about thirty yards east and the other some forty yards west. These went through a similar stratum of frozen earth, but contain more water. A well sunk about six rods to the south encountered no frozen earth.

Harvesting Buckwheat.

Buckwheat is the most peculiar of the grain family in the manner of its ripening—a considerable portion being in the milk state when another will be fully matured. The pont is to cut it in that stage which will save the most, and this is when about half of the grain has turned brown. If the straw were less sensative to cold than it is, harvesting might be delayed longer, but when stricken by frost the growth is entirely arrested and the straw disposed to an early decay, preventing any farther maturing of the grain. But, cut when a portion is in the milk and set up in bunches in the field, the juice of the straw, of which it is peculiarly rich, will cause the immature portions to ripen, and little will be lost by over ripeness or lack of it. The common grain cradle will be found the best implement for harvesting this grain, as it leaves the straw in a condition to be easily gathered in bunches for setting up for drying.

TRADE ASSOCIATIONS.—It is announced that the introduction of liberal institutions in Austria has given rise to an important movement among the working men, with the object of improving the relations between them and their employers. This movement is not confined to the great industrial establishments, but has spread even to the smallest trades, such as comb makers, sweeps, waiters, and other occupations. The question of trade associations in Austria is at present in a state of transition. Trade unions are forbidden by the present laws, but the new Constitution contains provisions which nullify this prohibition. The question was brought forward at the last session of the Reichsrath, but no decision was arrived at, though the committee of the House, which was appointed to consider the question, declared itself in favor of the legalization of trade unions.

THE convening exercises of the Synod of the combined districts of the German Lutheran Church, at Fort Wayne, Ind., on the 1st inst., were participated in by upwards of five hundred ministers.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken according to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, relax the livor and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented except calomel (a deadly poison which is very dangerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Liver Compiaint is one of the most prominent causes of Consumption.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative, and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, locking up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Remove the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consumption, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abscesses, bronchial irritation, bronchitis, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medicines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient begins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body begins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure Consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in all billious complaints, as they are perfectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 225 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hopeless and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recovery many thousands similarly afflicted have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same remarkable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to personally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadelphia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 35 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer the price is $5. Once hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

PROBABLY FATAL AFFRAY.

The Knife and its Consequences—Cutting Affray in West Pittsburgh—The Perpetrator Arrested and Escapes—The Wounded Man in a Dying Condition.

A brutal and disgusting cutting affray occurred in West Pittsburgh yesterday, which will doubtless be attended with fatal consequences. The principals in the affair were Barney Duffey, a puddler, residing in Temperanceville, and Thomas alias "Pug" Sullivan, of Ormsby Borough. These parties, it appears, met yesterday morning in Louis Aurien's saloon, in West Pittsburgh, near the Jones' Ferry landing, when they drank together several times, and apparently parted in friendship, both leaving the saloon and going to their homes.

THE FIGHT.

About one o'clock in the afternoon Duffey returned to the saloon, which at that time was filled with customers, who were engaged in drinking and talking, and in about half an hour afterward Sullivan came in. He had been in the saloon but a short time when he entered into conversation with Duffey, and, it is alleged, they again took a drink together. The conversation was resumed, and shortly they got into a discussion as to which was the better man, a fact, so far as we can learn, which has also been a matter of dispute between them. The discussion as a natural consequence between such men, led to a quarrel, when it is alleged that Duffey struck at Sullivan, but did not hit him. The latter instantly drew a large dirk knife from his pocket and plunged it into Duffey's bowels up to the hilt, prefacing his remarks with an oath that he would kill him. Duffey after receiving the wound kicked at Sullivan when the latter made another thrust at him with the knife which he warded off. Duffey then remarked that Sullivan had killed him, when he was again assaulted with the knife but succeeded in warding off the thrust, which was made in the region of the heart. Sullivan then quietly put the bloody knife in his pocked, walked out of the door to the sidewalk, and the wounded man, faint and staggering from the loss of blood, started for the door, and fell almost insensible in the doorway. Sullivan, whose conduct proves him to be a most bloodthirsty and vicious fiend seeing his adversary in that condition approached him with a paving stone in his hand, and seizing him by the hair raised his head from the sidewalk and struck him a number of times on the head, fracturing the skull and beating his head into a jelly. He then threw down the stone and started home as unconcerned as though nothing of an unusual character had occurred, and the crowd who had witnessed the brutal, bloodthirsty and most probably fatal affray, made no effort to arrest him.

The injured man was removed to the office of Justice Schiseldig, where his wounds were dressed, after which he was carried to his residence in Temperanceville. Dr. McCook, Sr., was called to see him last evening, and we learn pronounced his injuries fatal. The wound in the abdomen, from which the intestines were protruding, is on the right side, below the ribs, about three inches in length, and penetrated the bowels.

Officer Thomas, of West Pittsburgh, on hearing of the affray started in pursuit of Sullivan and after considerable search, found and arrested him in Ormsby borough, and succeeded in getting from him the knife with which he had perpetrated the bloody deed, and at his request, went with him to his house to allow him to change his clothes. On arriving there, Sullivan seized an axe and threatened to kill the officer if he laid hands on him again. Being disabled in one arm, the officer concluded not to force matters and the man escaped.

Information of the affray having been received at the Mayor's office, four officers were despatched to "Limerick" to search for Sullivan, but without success.

The injured man was still living last night, but no hopes of his recovery were entertained.

Unsuccessful.

Another unsuccessful attempt at burglary was made a few evenings since at the residence of Mr. John McIntyre, located on the Perrysville plank-road, just outside the limits of Allegheny. The thief was in the house rummaging about, when Mr. McIntyre awoke, and confronted him. He immediately started off closely followed by that gentleman. The chap however, it seems had anticipated a chase and prepared for it by leaving a door open, thus affording a means of easy escape. In the darkness he became somewhat confused and created a lively racket by tumoling over chairs, knocking over tables and similar performances. He finally just escaped the clutches of his pursuer by reaching the doorway, and disappearing with the most unceremonious haste. Unfortunately, Mr. McIntyre had not time to secure his revolver, or the fellow might have carried off with him, something he had not calculated upon.

Robberies in the outskirts of Allegheny are becoming quite numerous. A few policemen might be detailed for the locality, especially around the upper part of the city, with considerable advantage. If the force is not large enough to do this, and we think it is not, more men should be secured.

Alleged Infringement.

In the United States Circuit Court, yesterday morning, Messrs. Weaver & Jonee by Messrs Carnahan and Marshall, their attorneys, filed a bill in equity complaining that N. Haller & Co., J. C. Tilton and A. B. Clarke & Co, are infringing on their patent right in manufacturing and disposing of a patent pocket corn sheller. The complainants asked that a preliminary injunction be granted restraining the parties from further infringing upon their rights. The motion for a preliminary injunction is fixed for a hearing before Judge McCandless, at Williamsport, on the 13th inst.

Serious Accident.

Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock a horse attached to a buggy, in which was a Mr. Mechling, of this city, and a Miss Peters, of Meadville, while passing down Grant street, took fright at the corner of Grant and Diamond streets, and ran away. When near First street the buggy collided with a heavy wagon and the occupants were thrown out. The lady, who was seriously injured, was removed to a house near by, and a physician sent for. The young man was only slightly injured. The frightened horse was caught by one of the Mayor's officers.

Run Over.

Yesterday afternoon a little boy, whose name we could not ascertain, was knocked down and run over by a carriage on Federal street, near Water, Allegheny. The little fellow peddled matches, and attempted to cross the street in advance of the vehicle when the accident occurred. He was taken into Schwartz's drug store, when it was found that he had been severely injured, the wheels having passed over his abdomen. He was afterwards conveyed to his home on Jefferson street, Second ward, where he received medical attention.

POLITICAL.

County Executive Committee.

An adjourned meeting of the County Executive Committee was held yesterday at 2 o'clock P. M., in the Common Pleas Court room.

The meeting was called to order at half past two o'clock, and on motion of J. S. Lambie, Esq., H. C. Mackrell, Esq., was called to the Chair.

The names of John Graham and William Calhoun, of the Tenth ward, which were omitted in the original list, were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Lambie, Chairman of the Committee on Meetings and Speakers, reported that the Committee had opened a correspondence with several eminent public speakers, and among the number, R. Stockett Matthews Esq., of Baltimore, who has consented to address the citizens of Pittsburgh at any time between the 9th and 12th inst.

The report was adopted and on motion it was resolved to hold a meeting on the 25th inst.

James W. Murray, Esq., Chairman of Committee of Arrangements for the ratification meeting, reported that the expenses incurred for that meeting, so far as ascertained, was for music. He had employed two bands for the sum of $46, and moved that a warrant be drawn for the amount.

The motion was adopted.

J. S. Lambie, Esq., moved that a Committee of nine be appointed to take into consideration the propriety of holding a Soldiers' Convention in this city during the present month, and report at the next meeting, to be held on Tuesday the 7th inst.

R. B. Parkinson, Esq., moved to amend by appointing a Committee to make arrangements for holding a Convention.

After considerable discussion the question was called on the amendment, which was defeated.

The question recurring on the original motion of Mr. Lambie, it was adopted, and the following gentlemen appointed on the Committee: Messrs. Jno. S. Lambie, Geo. F. Morgan, R. B. Parkinson, H. W. Oliver, W. S. McCune, B. F. Lucas, Col. J. H. Stewart, T. M. Bayne and Andrew Scott. The Committee are requested to meet at the office of J. S. Lambie, Esq., at ten o'clock to-day, (Saturday) the 4th inst.

Mr. Morgan presented the bill of the Republic for printing, which, on motion of Mr. Magee, was referred to the Committee on Printing.

Mr. Morgan moved that a meeting be held in the Allegheny Diamond square, on Thursday evening, the 9th inst., to be addressed by Hon. John A. Bingham, of Ohio, and that a Committee of three be appointed to make the necessary arrangements. The motion was adopted, and Messrs. George F. Morgan, James M'Brier and Hon. James L. Graham appointed.

The Committee adjourned to meet on Tuesday, the 7th inst., at 2 P. M.

Allegheny City Executive Committee.

Last evening a meeting of the Allegheny City Republican Executive Committee was held in the City Treasurer's office, to fix upon a time for holding the primary meetings for the nomination of candidates for municipal offices. Mr. Arthur Hobson presided, with Mr. W. P. Price as Secretary.

The resignation of Mr. John Kirkpatrick, from the Second ward, was accepted, and Mr. Wm. Tate, Jr., appointed to fill the vacancy.

After considerable discussion, on motion, the time for holding the meetings was fixed for the first Saturday of October next.

Mr. John A. Myler offered the following:

Resolved, That the Chairman of this Committee be and he is hereby instructed to call the primary meetings of the Republican party, to be held at the usual places of holding the election, on Saturday, October 2d, 1869, between the hours of seven and three o'clock P. M., to nominate candidates for Mayor, Director of the Poor and other city officers.

Resolved, That no person not a bona fide voter, and known as having heretofore voted with the Union Republican party, shall be allowed to vote.

Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the Judges of the Primary meetings, to meet at the City Treasurer's office on Monday, Oct. 4th, at 10 o'clock, A. M., and after casting up the vote, to decide who the party have selected as the nominees, provided that if it shall appear that in any one election district there have been ten or more illegal votes cast, or that number returned that were not cast by legal voters—then it shall be the duty of the Judges to omit in those footings the districts which have attempted to set at naught the will of the people, provided, further, that should there be a dispute about the result in any of the districts, the Judges may have power to adjourn from time to time, in order to receive all the facts in the case that can be had, and further that the candidates shall have every opportunity given them by the Judges to show where injustice has been done.

The resolutions were considered seriatim, and adopted.

On motion, it was recommended that the election boards, so far as practicable, be sworn before entering upon their duties.

Mr. Myer offered a resolution requiring the candidates for Mayor to communicate with the Secretary of the Executive Committee, signifying their willingness to abide by the decision of the primary meetings, and further instructing the election boards to throw out all votes for any candidate who refused to do so. Adopted.

Adjourned to meet at the call of the Chairman.

Sixth Ward Republican Vigilance Committee.

A meeting of the members of the Republican Vigilance Committee of the Sixth ward, appointed by the County Executive Committee, was held last evening at the Ann street School House.

Samuel Morrow was chosen Chairman, and R. D. Nicholson and Frank P. Case, Secretaries. The election of other officers was deferred until nextweek.

The following gentlemen were then added to the Committee: James M. Gordon, Wm H. Everson, Joseph Caskey, Richard Jones, George Linderman, Daniel Kinzer, Henry White, Jr., Joseph Brooks, Charles Storer, Thomas Ewens, John Richardson, Henry Berringer, George Wolf, Samuel Greer and Thomas Mawhinney.

Alderman H. J. Thomas, Register of the ward, reported that he had obtained the names of 979 voters, after a careful canvass; that the list was now in the hands of the County Commissioners, and as soon as copied he would have a duplicate pasted in a conspicuous place; after that, names could be added until ten days before the election.

After some discussion, the Committee adjourned until next Tuesday evening at seven o'clock, when it is hoped there will be a full attendance.

On the same evening, at the same place, a Geary Marching Club will be organized, and all young men, and especially members of the Grant Tanner Clubs, are requested to be present and join.

The Innocents Abroad; or, The New Pilgrim's Progress. By Mark Twain. Hartford. American Publishing Co.

As we don't suppose there is one person out of ten who wouldn't read Mark Twain's books if he could, there is hardly any necessity for doing more here than merely to announce that this new work is in the hands of the agents now, and will shortly be brought before the people. Mark was one of the party which went on the memorable excursion to Europe and the East in the steamer Quaker City, and this book contains a detailed account of that excursion, with Mark's impressions told in the way that only one man could tell anything. As the greatest and purest humorist of the day, this author can always be certain of finding a ready sale for all his works, and the agents for his books may be looked upon as fortunate. The present work is sold only by subscription, and the agent—a lady already favorably known here as the agent of several popular books—will shortly begin to canvass this neighborhood.

A Pleasant Fact.

One of the most pleasant facts to a lover of the weed, is the knowledge of an establishment where, at all times, he can procure the finest and best articles in the line of tobacco and segars, for the gratification of his habits in this direction, and the establishment which bears this reputation, is always a popular resort to him. Mr. John Megraw, No. 45 Hand street, understanding this principle, and with a desire to sell only what he could warrant as represented, has uniformly kept on hand only the best tobacco, cigars, and other merchandise in his line of trade. As a result his house enjoys an enviable reputation and he has met with that success which as a consequence always follow business integrity and enterprise. His stock is one of the largest in the city, and embraces everything usually found in a first class tobacco house, so that purchasers, wholesale or retail, may have no difficulty in finding any article they desire.

The Continental.

The Continental, Fifth avenue, below the Postoffice, fresh and bright since its thorough refitting, is still the centre of attraction for lovers of a dainty, clean and palatable repast. We can see no marvel in the immense patronage which this establishment enjoys when the style in which everything is conducted is considered. Perfectly clean and tidy tables, polite and accommodating waiters, and a rich and varied abundance of the best the market in season affords, should certainly attract patrons in large numbers. This is the secret of the great success of the "Continental," which deservedly is one of the most popular institutions of its character in our city. The proprietor, Mr. Holtzheimer, understands the wants of the people, and by conducting his restaurant on a liberal scale meets with that gratifying success which alone attends merit.

Handsome, Cheap and Durable.

Among the many new pavements which have been before the public of late years the Boulevard takes a front rank, for neatness, economy and durability. Although but of a recent patent, comparatively, it is rapidly rising into favor and is already adopted in many places, as the best pavement in use. For garden walks, cellar floors or street side walks it is especially applicable. Smooth, firm, and solid, easily drained and clean in appearance, it possesses all the requisites for a good pavement, while its comparative cheapness is a very strong recommendation in its favor over the old styles. Messrs. McCowan & Co., No. 65 Ohio street, Allegheny, are prepared to fill all orders for the Boulevard with promptness and guarantee it to be as represented.

Fall Styles.—Ladies in search of the newest styles, in fall or winter wear should call at Moorhead's 81 Market street, where they cannot fail to have their wants supplied from the large stock on hand. Mr. Moorhead is receiving daily all the latest and most stylish patterns in his line of trade, and a visit to his establishment, before purchasing elsewhere, would be of interest to buyers, either wholesale or retail.

Croft & Phillips' Pittsburgh Real Estate Register.

This valuable real estate reference is out for September, and we find it as usual full of the most desirable information in regard to properties of all kinds, and in every location. This feature of issuing a descriptive book of property for sale is solely the idea of Croft & Phillips, who deserve credit for introducing more real enterprise in the real estate business than any who ever attempted that line in Pittsburgh. Nothing is so puzzling to one wanting to purchase property as to know where to look for what his mind is fixed upon, and advertisements here and there in the papers do not answer the purpose. The pamphlet issued by Croft & Phillips fills the bill completely. The extensive list of properties in their hands for disposal, covering all sections of this and the adjoining counties, enables them to suit every one, and each property is fully set forth, location, size, description, improvements, general features, price, terms, etc., so that a person can consult it with some satisfaction. Their trade extends over such a vast territory, and their reputation is such, that all wanting to buy or sell can feel entire confidence in transacting business through them. They also do a large business in placing money or real securities, and advertise at present $100,000 to loan on bond and mortgage. In short they carry on the most extensive and complete line of business relating to real estate and investment of money in the city. They are now distributing the September number of the "Pittsburgh Real Estate Register," and will take pleasure in serving any one with a copy gratis on calling or sending to their office No. 139 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh. Blooming Pearl

Is now considered by all ladies and gentlemen who understand its action, to be an indispensable toilet luxury. A small quantity of it has a marked and delightful effect. Its freshening and cooling aroma cause it to be extensively sought after by those who appreciate refined and luxurious elegance. Its influence in allaying the flushed appearance induced by heat and toil—in causing a very healthful glow upon the wan cheek of the feeble—and in adding to beaty a new and fresher bloom—is incomparable. It can be had at all drug stores at 50 cents per bottle.

The language of nature and experience demonstrates that whoever would enjoy the pleasures of food, the beauties of landscape, the joys of companionship, the riches of literature, or the honors of station and renown, must preserve their health. The effect of foul, injurious food, entering the stomach, is to derange the digestive organs and produce headache, loss of appetite, unrefreshing sleep, low spirits, feverish burnings, etc., which are the symptoms of that horrid disease, Dyspepsia, which assumes a thousand shapes, and points toward a miserable life and premature decay. PLANTATION BITTERS will prevent, overcome and counteract all of these effects. They act with unerring power, and are taken with the pleasure of a beverage.

Manufactured only by Caswell, Hazard & Co., New York. Sold by all druggists. s

Many people are prejudiced against the use of spirits in any form, but we can assure such that the Constitution Bitters are not objectionable on that account, for while they contain only pure whisky enough to keep them from changing, the combination of roots, barks and herbs are the real articles of merit that produce such wonderful effects. The thousands who are using them can testify to the above fact.

Fancy and Fashion need not be ashamed to use the Milk of Violets, as it has been awarded the highest prize in the Court of Beauty, and esteemed the perfection of true loveliness by the ladies everywhere. Sold by Druggists and fancy goods dealers. V. W. Brinckerhoff, N. Y., sole agent for U. S.

Life Insurance.

In answer to many inquiries we give below a brief explanation of the conditions of the accumulating policy of the Co-operative Life Insurance Company, which seems to be succeeding all other forms of life insurance. Taking for example the age, 45 years, and the amount of insurance, $1,000; the applicant is required to pay $10 cash when the insurance is effected (say September 1st, 1869,) and an equal sum on the 1st of January and July 1870 and 1871, making in all $50. He is also required to pay an assessment of $2 within the next calender month after each death that occurs in his class (1,001 persons.) As often as these $2 assessments are paid, $2 are added to the amount of insurance the policy being settled as follows:

If the insured shall die before making any other than the first $10 payment, the $40 unpaid on his admission fee will be deducted from the $1,000, and his heirs will receive $960 cash. If he shall die after making 25 two dollar payments, his heirs will receive the full $1,000 with 25 two dollar additions or $1,050. If he has paid one hundred assessments his heirs will receive $1,200, &c., &c.

If the insured shall fail or refuse to continue his payments, the policy is not entirely forfeited, but by its terms stands good for a specified amount for each year during which payments were continued. All interested should get the Company's circulars at its office, 128 Smithfield street.
